Spectator Handbook

Ride Weekend and Gravel Day

Spectators are such an important part of the Pelotonia experiences! Find all the information you need to spectate safely here, and visit pelotonia.org/cheer for more info!

How can I contribute if I don't want to Ride or Volunteer?

Pelotonia's mission is to raise money for cancer research. If you're unable to participate as a Rider or Volunteer, but would still like to fundraise, you can become a Challenger. Please visit pelotonia.org for additional information and to register.

What happens if my participant is injured during Ride Weekend or Gravel Day?

If a participant is hurt or otherwise unable to finish, support vehicles or First Aid volunteers will provide appropriate first aid assistance and will contact EMT services if necessary. If a participant is transported to a medical facility, the participant's designated emergency contact person will be notified immediately. If a participant does not need to be transported for an injury but is otherwise unable to finish, support vehicles will transport them to the nearest finish area where they may be picked up or take a shuttle back to a start location.

Where and how can I cheer on my Rider or Runner/Hiker?

During Ride Weekend, cheer on Riders along the route and at finish lines! Use alternate roads to avoid the route and park away from it to keep Riders safe (all route maps can be viewed at pelotonia.org/ride-weekend). Follow all directions from law enforcement, volunteers, and signage for guest parking. Rest stops, including the lunch stop, are off-limits to guests for Rider safety. Spray painting public roads is strictly prohibited by law.

During Gravel Day, guests are also welcome to cheer on Riders along the route, and cheer on Riders, Runners and Hikers as they finish at Snow Fork Event Center. Again, use alternate roads to avoid the routes (all route maps can be viewed at pelotonia.org/gravel-day) and spectators should avoid arriving to Snow Fork between 8:15am-10:00am as cyclists take off.

How can I track my participant and know where they are on the route?

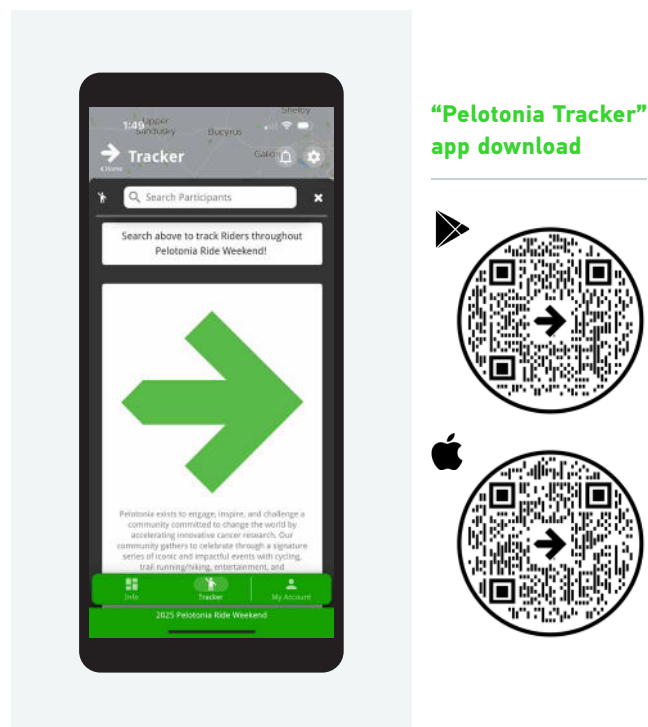

All spectators can download the "Pelotonia Tracker" from the Apple or Google Play store on your mobile device. This app allows family and friends to view progress throughout the Ride or Run/Hike, including receiving push notifications when participants arrive at and leave rest stops, and are approaching their finish line.

To follow a participant, spectators should download the app to their mobile device, click on the appropriate event (Ride Weekend or Gravel Day), choose the "Tracker" option at the bottom of the screen, then click on the search icon in the upper left hand corner to search for a participant and click the participant's name in the search results. This will add that participant to the main screen of a spectator's app to view their progress and also give the option to subscribe to push notifications for that participant.

What accessibility accommodations are available for spectators?

Pelotonia is committed to providing an inclusive experience and furthering accessibility for all spectators regardless of ability, both apparent and non-apparent.

Accessible parking and restrooms are available at all start and finish venues, as well as other accommodations across Ride Weekend and Gravel Day. Please visit pelotonia.org/ride-weekend/accessibility for more information about accessibility at Pelotonia events.
